

The BUPA liver data set contains data on liver enzymes ALT and yGT. Suppose we are interested in using $\log(\text{yGT})$ to predict ALT. A plot of the data appears in panel (a) of the figure. There appears to be non-constant variance, and a Box–Cox transformation might help.